

“Thanks to Martin we’ve now changed the way we think and operate in so many areas and we are swiftly taking what was already a successful business to the next stage of growth.”

Alec Middleton, Director, Platform81, Manchester

Martin Nolan

Location: United Kingdom.

Languages: English.

All the expertise: Coach.

My best story

“The Borneo jungle is dark at night. Very, very dark...”

Overview

Martin has many years’ experience as both an executive coach and also as a business leader. His inspiring and enjoyable coaching style enables leaders and managers within client organisations to fully engage with, and actively participate in, their business in order to unlock innovation and growth potential.

Areas of Expertise

• Executive coaching • Sales and sales management • Negotiating • Leadership development • Meeting facilitation • Culture and behaviour to build high performance • Strategic and tactical business planning • Implementation of management disciplines, metrics and accountability

Licence to Practice

With a degree in Finance and 3 years as an Army Officer behind him, Martin enjoyed a successful corporate career holding positions with global organisations such as IBM and Vodafone. He is currently a tutor on the Goldman Business Growth Programme which was established in the UK by the Saïd Business School at the University of Oxford. In addition, Martin was recently appointed by Bentley Motors as their Coach for the UK Bentley Dealership channel.

- Registered and approved Growth Coach for the UK Government’s Growth Accelerator programme
- B.Sc. (Hons)
- Member of the Institute of Leadership & Management

Satisfied clients, include

Novartis, Bentley Motors, Armitage Construction, John Whitaker International, NEXT, Argos, Homebase, Active Tameside, PDQ Couriers, Big Storage, Avis Budget Rent A Car and Manchester Metropolitan University.

Three words that describe me

Professional | Fun | Adventurous